INSURGENTS.

Twenty-Five Killed Near Passi.

Battle May Cause Peace in Province of Iloilo.

Manila, Oct. 28.—(Sp.)—The constabulary report a fight with insurgents near Passi, province of Iloilo, in which twenty-five insurgents were killed and three captured, together with a quantity of arms and ammunition.

The news from General Hughes regarding conditions in the island of Cebu is encouraging. Lorega has surrendered with his entire force and one cannon and seven rifles, while General Hughes is negotiating for the surrender of Maxiot, who styles himself "Governor Politico-Militar." His surrender will mean the pacification of the province.

Lack of food and the harassing effects of the aggressive tactics now pursued by the American forces are having their influence upon the natives. In many places where rice is doled out by the government only enough is given for one meal, so that it is hardly possible for any large quantity to find its way to the insurgents.

It is believed that the recent manifestations in the island of Samar were chiefly due to the lack of food, the insurgents finding it necessary to make outlets to the coast in order to obtain this.

Naval Cadet Loveman Non, commanding the gunboat Mariveles, who had gone ashore at Nipa-Nipa, South Samar, to prevent smuggling, was attacked by the insurgents. He lost his revolver and was shot and looted.

MANY PRESENT.

Evangelistic Services Drew Large Audiences.

The revival services in progress at the Third Church of Christ were largely attended yesterday. At 10:30 a. m., following communion services, Evangelist Hall preached a fine sermon on "Climbing Heavenward." At the afternoon mass meeting, held at 3 o'clock, "The Advantages of being a Christian" was the Evangelist's theme. "The Fall of Babylon" was the theme of the sermon at 7:30 p. m.

The large chorus choir, under the direction of the singing evangelist, Miss Pearl Perrin, of Indiana, opened the services by singing a number of familiar hymns. The solo, "Tell Mother I'll be There," was sung by Miss Perrin. These were the words of President McKinley, which he telegraphed to friends just before the death of his mother.

The services will continue every night this week at 7:30 p. m. Tonight Evangelist Hall will preach on "Acknowledgment of Sin Not the Whole of Repentance." He announced last night that this would be one of the best services of the entire series.

LODGES

O. R. O. and K. of O. R. C.
Star and Crescent Commandery held its regular session Wednesday evening, with a large attendance. The business was transacted in a way that shows that the officers are up to their duties. All members were reported well. One of our supreme officers was present and gave some good reports of the order. In a short time there may be a Commandery organized at Barberton. The Kent members paid the Commandery a visit, and made some interesting remarks. The organization of the team will take place at our next meeting. The captain requests all members who wish to take part to be present promptly. Our hall has been arranged as neat as possible, and we hope to make the meetings interesting to every member.

ROYAL TEMPLARS.

Summit Council, Royal Templars, which was instituted September 30, will meet on Monday, at 7:30 p. m., at Forester's hall, 210 E. Market st. A large class will be initiated and all Royal Templars and new members are requested to be present. This new Council is growing rapidly and every member is enthusiastic over the beauty of the ritualistic work.

D. OF L.

Columbia Council held a very interesting and important meeting on Thursday afternoon. It was business from start to finish. Two applications were presented for membership and one candidate balloted for. It was decided to call a special meeting for Saturday afternoon to arrange for our anniversary on November 7th and it is hoped every member will be present on our next regular day for lodge, as it requires the united effort of us all to carry into execution the business in hand. A number of patrons enjoyed a pleasant party at our hall on Thursday evening. Mr. R. D. Westfall took first honor and the first prize. Mrs. A. A. Seymour took second honor and prize and Miss Lizzie Terrell took the booty prize, which caused much laughter.

RED MEN.

Saranac Tribe kindled its council fire last Thursday's sleep with all elected chiefs in their respective stumps, and a large attendance, when the Warrior's degree was conferred. Next Thursday's sleep there will be several warriors exalted to the Chief's degree. Bro. Thos. J. Bell was reported still unable to follow the hunt, but he is improving.

PATHFINDER.

Akron Lodge appointed a committee to arrange for an oyster supper to be given in about two weeks. Several candidates were balloted on and five applications for membership received.

We expect to use the new rituals for the first time on Monday night. They are quite an improvement on the old ones, making work far more interesting and impressive, at the same time preserving all the points of that formerly in use.

Middlebury Lodge held their regular meeting in Inman hall Friday night. Several visitors from other lodges were present. The usual number of applications were received. The committee on team outfit reported progress.

THE CHEVALIERS.

Akron Castle has adopted a plan of arrangements of meetings for the Castle, which will meet with great favor with all the members. On the first Wednesday evening of the month, the Esquire and Ladies' degree will be

MANY LIVES SAVED

And Scores of Them Reside Right in Akron.

Kidney ills develop quickly. Only a little backache at first. Neglect the ache, other troubles follow.

Urinary disorders, diabetes, Bright's disease, Doan's Kidney Pills save many lives. Cure kidney ills before too late. Akron people endorse them.

Mrs. M. E. Berry of 210 Coburn st., who says: "I suffered from my head and from my back and it occurred to me that the trouble was caused by inactivity of the kidneys. There was pain in my neck and in the back and top of my head, a dull, grinding ache across the joints and sharp twinges when arising from a chair. My husband suggested trying Doan's Kidney Pills, and I procured them from Lamparter & Co.'s drug store. On taking them they gave me immediate relief. The pains and lameness in my back were banished, my head felt better and I was freed from languor and depression."

conferred. The second Wednesday evening the Chevalier's degree will be conferred and the third Wednesday evening will be a business meeting, with whatever may present itself for action, and the fourth Wednesday evening will be a social meeting for the purpose of social entertainment. Last Wednesday evening the Ladies' degree was conferred by Chevalier Jones with the team of Akron Castle, and was very interesting and instructive.

Goodyear Castle is taking quite an interest in the order and we anticipate a good growth in this Castle during the winter. The genial clerk, having taken unto himself a partner, will doubtless take one new member into the order. We wish Chevalier Whittlessey and bride "bon voyage."

The work of the order in general is quite satisfactory and much interest is being manifested in the Castles throughout the state.

Doylestown Castle will be instituted Nov. 2, and promises to be one of the best Castles.

Gallion Castle will be instituted some time during the week, and Ashtabula Castle early in November.

A new Castle will be instituted in Youngstown within the next ten days, and it is hoped to add more new Castles before the first of the year.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

Acme Lodge, No. 35, Knights of Honor, had a very enthusiastic meeting last Monday night. It was decided to meet at their hall next Monday night at 8:45 and go to their hall in East Akron, to pay a visit to Spartan Lodge, No. 126. There will also be initiatory services. All members are earnestly invited to be present.

DEGREE OF POCAHONTAS.

Ogarecta Council met Tuesday evening. One pale face took the degree. The captain of the team announces that there will be no drill in the hall Sunday afternoon. The committee on entertainment stated that it has postponed the same until Nov. 12.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

McPherson Lodge at its last convention did considerable work in the way of amending and rearranging the by-laws.

Several important changes are likely to be made and the members who are interested and have good ideas for the improvement of the by-laws will please bring them to lodge.

The third rank was conferred in full ritualistic form. Members of the teams will please note that a candidate will be initiated at the first three conventions in Nov.

U. R. K. P.

Summit City Company, No. 63, is now doing some very profitable work in drilling and several candidates will soon be ready for muster. The company has been invited to visit Akron Lodge next Friday night. The Knights of Honor will assemble at the armory on that evening in full dress and be ready to move at 7:00.

L. O. T. M.

Regular meeting of Busy Bee Hive No. 35, Tuesday evening, October 29. The ladies of Woodland Hive of Cleveland, will be with us. All Busy Bee Hive ladies are expected to furnish something, for supper will be served to the Cleveland ladies when they arrive. We will also have initiation on that evening. Assessment No. 57 for life benefit members, must be paid by the last of this month. Hives dues for all members due October 1, must be paid before Nov. 1. Great Lady Commander Emma S. Olds, of Elyria, O., and several other Great Hives officers are also expected to be with us.

Protection Hive will meet next Tuesday evening to complete arrangements for the visit to Copley Hive. All ladies wishing to go must report at this meeting.

Independent Hive will meet Wednesday evening, in its hall, with the Union team to drill. All ladies of the team are earnestly requested to be present. The Hive sewing society will meet all day Wednesday at 110 Hazel st. Bring your lunch with you.

O. U. A. M.

Summit Council, No. 19, met in regular session Wednesday night with a fair attendance, but not as good as it should be. One application for reinstatement was received, and was acted upon. Social committee reported so far as it could. The Vice-Councilor, J. L. Hoyer, for some reason or other, was not present, and the members are becoming anxious to see him once. He will probably be present next meeting night, and those who have not seen him for a long time, can come up and get a glimpse of him. Brother Emmett Cook "crawled" and it is very likely that he will meet a warm reception next Wednesday night. The A. R. S., Bro. Curtis, was

Former Wife of Dan Hanna Home Again.

Mrs. May Harrington Hanna.

Mrs. May Harrington Hanna who, in defiance of the Supreme Court of two states and of her divorced husband, Daniel R. Hanna, and his father, Senator Mark Hanna, fled to Europe with her three children last summer, is again in New York. She arrived here on the steamship Deutschland.

Mrs. Hanna's three children arrived with her, but their names did not appear on the passenger list of the steamship. She herself was entered on the passenger list as "Frau Mark Hanna."

In company with Mrs. Hanna was a young man who looked remarkably like Mrs. Hanna's divorced husband. He was smooth-shaven and wore glasses. When he was addressed as Mr. Hanna, Mrs. Hanna promptly interposed. "He is not Mr. Hanna," she said, and he will say nothing. You need not ask him questions.

The young man denied that he was Mr. Hanna and declared that he was a mere shipboard acquaintance. "I have nothing whatever to say," Mrs. Hanna declared. "I am back again, that is all."

"I no longer fear for the safety and comfort of my three boys, who are to remain with me," she added. "It does not concern the public in any way that an arrangement to that effect has been made, if it has been made."

Increase of 75 Per Cent. In Violent Death Rate.

During the past three years the violent death rate in Summit county has increased 75 per cent. In the four years, during which Dr. A. K. Fouser was coroner, there were 103 cases. During the two years and 10 months not present, but will make a report next meeting night. Brothers Fudge, Young, Boron, Anderson, Babcock, Clark, Harrington, et al will attend the next meeting with a special feature to offer as a side line. All come up.

The "Jolly Mechanics" club met after business, and opened the pedro season in earnest. Much interest will be centered in the games from now on and a good attendance will insure the success of the club. Brothers Baum, Harrington and Barton tried for honors, but were "snowed under," C. E. Lipps, who had told around that he would carry off the honors, secured the "hooby" prize, while Bro. Smith won out.

K. and L. of S.

Summit Council No. 63 met Wednesday evening with unusually good attendance and installed new officers for the ensuing year. The lodge will give a prize raffle on a foot rest and covering followed by a dance, Wednesday evening, Oct. 30, in its hall over the People's Saving Bank.

that Dr. E. O. Leberman has been coroner there have been 200 cases. The record for the past few months is appalling. In one week in September there were eight cases. This record includes the five deaths in the Curtis tragedy at Towline.

Mrs. Hanna was attired in mourning, and her three boys, the eldest of whom is Mark, fourteen years old, wore light overcoats with broad mourning bands around their left sleeves.

Several private detectives were at the pier, and hovered around Mrs. Hanna, her two boys and her maid, while their eight pieces of baggage were being examined.

The expressman who took the luggage placed tags on it marked for Cleveland, showing that she was going to her home in that city. A woman on board the Deutschland answered the description of the Baroness Palland, who aided Mrs. Hanna in her flight to Europe. It was learned that this woman was the constant companion of Mrs. Hanna on the voyage across the ocean. The name of the Baroness did not appear upon the passenger list.

HONEST ABE, U. S. M.

THE RURAL MAIL CARRIER ON HIS DAILY TRIP.

He Prescribes a Cure For Mrs. Biggs' Daughter and Bears That Uncle Jim Cummings Intends to Break Up the Government.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis]
When I got along to Biggs' cross road the other day, I found Mrs. Biggs anxiously awaiting my arrival. I had scarcely driven up when she said: "Abe, I want you to come in and see Sarah. She's been acting mighty curious for the last two or three days, and I can't make her out."

"I'm representing the postmaster general, the administration, the Amer-

I FOUND SARAH SITTING UP IN A ROCKING CHAIR. I can eagle and all that," said I. "but I'm no doctor. Have you given her lobelia tea?" "I have," said the mother. "And soaked her feet?"

"Yes." "And fed her on milk toast?" "Yes. The trouble seems to be with her brain, Abe, and I'm afraid she's losing her mind. Come in and see if she knows you."

I went in and found Sarah sitting up in a rocking chair, with a bed quilt around her. She had pencil and paper, and she was dashing off poetry by the rod. She looked at me in a mournful way and slowly shook her head. I picked up one of the sheets and read:

To kill my love for Henry Jones
My mother must not try,
For sooner than prove false to him
I'll hang myself and die.

"Look here," said I to the mother as I took her out into the kitchen; "you have been trying to separate Sarah and Hank Jones."

"Yes," she replied. "And Sarah's mind is being unbalanced. She may become a raving maniac any minute. Mrs. Biggs, Sarah is 29 years old if she's a day. When an old girl falls in love for the first time, she has it bad. It doesn't take much opposition to tie her brain up in knots. Do you want a gibbering idiot or a raving lunatic on your hands?"

"Lands o' massy, no!" she whispered as her face grew white.

"Then take down the dinner horn and toot for Hank Jones to come over on the dead run, and you tell them they can get married next week."

"You bet it is. Yes, ma'am; I'm speaking from under the wing of the baldheaded eagle of liberty and while representing the bulwarks of freedom and the principles of fraternity. It's an official opinion clear down to the ground, and you get a move on you at once."

She grabbed the horn and went out and blew a blast to lift a calf off his feet, and as I drove away I saw a young farmer in his shirt sleeves coming across a meadow so fast that the grass seemed to be smoking under his feet. I expect to find Sarah fully recovered when I drive along next.

For the last four weeks I've been noticing that Farmer Jim Cummings has been acting sort of oddish as he took his mail, but he didn't volunteer any explanations, and I didn't ask for any. The other day, however, he was so sure that I opened out on him with:

"Look here, Uncle Jim; have you got cramps or anything?"

"Cramps," he growled in reply. "I've reckon I'm a blamed old fishwoman to have cramps in July?"

"Any trouble in the family?"

"No."

"Wheat, corn and taters coming along all right?"

"Yes."

"Then what's hurt your feelings?"

"Something is wrong. Uncle Jim, this government wants to know what it is."

"Look a-here, Abe," he says after a bit, "am I for this government or ag'in it?"

"You are for it, of course."

"Do you know how clus the vote in this township was last fall?"

"I forget."

"Well, sir, the present administration had just one vote to spare. If it hadn't been for me, the vote would have gone the other way. My hired man had the castin vote, and I threatened to lick him if he didn't poll as I did. I'm the man who saved the day."

"And you should be rewarded," said I.

"Yes, so I should, but how have I been rewarded? A few weeks ago there was a new school board elected for this district. The cohorts of this government ought to have been on hand to see that I was elected chairman, but not one blamed cohort showed up, and I didn't come within a mile of it. That's what ails me, Abe, if you want to know."

"It was too bad," I said. "I'm one of the cohorts of the government, as you know, and I never even heard that you wanted the office. Can nothing be done now?"

"The government might cohort the feller out and cohort me in," suggested Uncle Jim.

"I'm afraid that can't be done."

"Oh, it can't? Well, I ain't askin the government to break its back. Just let things be as they are."

"But you may do something rash."

"You bet I will!" said Uncle Jim as he looked up at me with a grim smile.

"Yes, Abe, the galled jade winces, and the iron has struck home. It's too late for the cohorts of the government to show up. I got up this mornin fully determined to upset these United States and bust this American nation into a cocked hat, and, by gum, I'll do it!"

"Can nothing induce?"

"Nothin' tall, Abe, and you might as well save your wind. When the government left me to fight it out alone, I left the government to sink or swim. She's goin to sink, Abe—goin down like a cow in a quagmire—and all the world can't save her. Jest drive on and get ready for the awfullest, biggest calamity this world has ever heard of, and you are my witness that the government is to blame for the bull thing."

THEY WERE WAITING.

A Man Who Thought Panther Cove Was Slow Got a Pointer.

There didn't seem to be much going on at Panther Cove for a border town, and when I ran across an old pioneer I told him that I was somewhat disappointed in it.

"Pans to be a slow town, eh?" he queried.

"Yes, rather that way."

"No shootin or hangin?"

"None whatever."

"Nobody jumpin on his hat and firin his guns in the air and nobody braggin of the number of men he's killed and goin to kill?"

"Yes, things are very quiet. Any particular reason for it?"

"Yes, stranger, there is. The particular reason is that about 150 of the boys are watchin you and holdin their breath."
